ENGLISH FOR YOUR WORLD
The American English Institute (AEI) at the University of Oregon (UO) was created for people like you—smart, talented students from around the world who want to improve their English skills.

Our faculty, all of whom hold master’s degrees and many with doctorates, are committed to helping students like you improve their English language skills and experience American academic culture.

Come and take the first step.
“The AEI instructors are friendly and helpful, and are always there when you need them. They prepared me to be a successful student at the university level. Without the AEI, I would not have been able to complete the writing requirements of the university.”

Located in the beautiful Pacific Northwest and within a short drive of the Pacific Ocean, the Cascade Mountains, and other beautiful natural areas, the University of Oregon is the perfect destination for people who love the outdoors. As the birthplace of Nike, Eugene is also known as “Track Town, USA,” and hosts some of the most important track-and-field events in the world, including the 2016 USA Olympic Team Trials.

Eugene offers a mix of urban culture and college town charm. It is known across the US for its green space, fresh air, efficient public transportation, and great places to run and bike. The people of Eugene embrace diverse beliefs, which provides a friendly and welcoming environment where students feel they belong.

TRAVEL MADE EASY

You can catch direct flights to and from the Eugene airport (EUG). The UO campus is just a short 20-minute drive away. With short lines and direct flights to many cities along the Pacific Coast and beyond, it’s easy to get where you’re going and to make easy connections to your final destination. For those wishing to explore the area around Eugene, the city provides easy access to buses, cabs, and rental cars.

“Eugene is an unforgettable place. I made friends from around the world and enjoyed exploring the beautiful outdoors. I had a lot of fun with my friends visiting rivers, mountains, and oceans.”

FOR STUDENTS

CONDITIONAL ADMISSION TO THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON

If you are interested in attending as an undergraduate student, the UO may offer you conditional admission if you require additional English language instruction to be successful in your studies at the university level. If you are conditionally admitted, you will attend the AEI to study English in the Intensive English Program (IEP). Upon successful completion of this program, you will enter the UO as an undergraduate with additional academic English courses as necessary.

INTENSIVE ENGLISH PROGRAM

Students at any level of English language can benefit from studying at the AEI. The AEI offers seven proficiency levels, from beginning through advanced. On average, students complete one level per term. The IEP offers a comprehensive curriculum of core classes, electives, and extracurricular programming designed to meet the academic needs and interests of our English language learners.

Offered throughout the year, each session is nine weeks long with 18 to 22 hours of instruction per week. Courses are designed to create a positive and effective English-learning environment while building linguistic, intercultural, and academic skills for seamless integration into programs at US universities.

Upper-level students have the ability to take some UO courses for credit while attending the IEP.

FOR TEACHERS

The AEI offers English teacher training programs online, on the UO campus, and in countries worldwide. Upon request, programs can be specifically customized for universities, schools, government entities, and other organizations. Such programs may last from a few weeks to several months. They typically combine theory with practice in the latest teaching methods and may include face-to-face or virtual class observations, visits to local schools, and cultural events.

FOR PARTNERS

AEI faculty also provide practical workshops on a variety of topics in tandem with other departments or programs, upon request.

We offer the following:

- Online courses
- Courses on the UO campus
- Overseas training
- Custom and hybrid programs
- Consulting and development of curriculum, materials, and assessments
SUPPORT

ORIENTATION
Each term, the AEI runs a comprehensive, weeklong orientation to accelerate students’ familiarity with each other, the UO campus, academic systems, resources, and expectations. Orientation programming continues throughout the term.

ADVISING
The AEI’s academic advisers work one-on-one with students to ensure they are academically prepared and successful. The AEI has dedicated international advisers to help students with I-20s and visa-related questions.

TUTORING AND CONVERSATION PARTNER PROGRAM
AEI students may participate in free peer tutoring and mentoring, assistance with classroom activities, and homework help. Conversation partners meet one-on-one with students and provide an opportunity to share language and culture to enhance the student experience at the UO.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT SUCCESS
This course helps students make a smooth transition into their studies and their new life in Eugene. Study skills, cultural adjustment, integration into the community, and personal development are the four core courses.

“The AEI revolves around helping students succeed. All of our work is focused on giving our students the best possible experience and the tools they need to be successful in reaching their English-learning goals. When you have so many highly qualified and experienced teachers working together with a focus on student success, that results in an exceptionally good program.”
